

Now the cells are only about 160 μm in diameter, and can be seen using a simple microscope.

Standardize the data to the same scale as the other data.